Transformational Evolutionary Coaching

Navigating a Changing World and Re-Imagineering your Role in CoCreating a New Era

Nina's Being Human Life's coaching model, Transformational Evolutionary Coaching (TEC) is spiritually-centered and dynamically integrated with neuroscience, HNLP, energetic clearing and rebalancing and is built upon 25 years of client work, ongoing study and experience.

I will guide you as you learn to navigate your relationship to yourself, the divine and its challenges and mysterious rewards and blessings. While the world as we knew it a few months ago appears to be crumbling and making way for the creation of a new way of being, living and serving, this is the optimal time to begin working with me as you re-imagine, reconnect and relaunch your life post-pandemic.

As society evolves we only have one choice if we want to thrive. That choice is to dig deep, tap into resiliency, reassess values, priorities, natural gifts, talents and passions, and re-envision your life in the new emerging era.

LET'S TALK

Why am I really here?

What did I come here to do?

What is my Life purpose and my Soul's mission?

These kinds of questions inspire a new experience and interpretation of our personal problems. Difficult times, too, invite us on a vision quest for the work of our soul. Moreover, as a depth-oriented hypnotherapeutic coach with a graduate degree in positive and transpersonal psychology and self-generative human development,

I learned that anything we can experience deeply and honestly will change, and it will change us.

As a mystic, I learned that consciousness is itself sacred, and anything held in awakened consciousness becomes sacred, including our suffering and our work. To find the vision of our soul, therefore, we need to let feelings “grow us” emotionally and then sanctify our work in sacred consciousness.

Given the extent of crisis of our time, nearly everyone is experiencing confusion, anxiety, depression, and grief over personal losses and have an overall sense of malaise.

I am no stranger to any of these and am devoted to fulfilling my life mission and soul purpose through my teaching, coaching, writing, recorded meditations and consultations.

My role is to assist and guide as many people as possible to find their own unique path to peace, empowerment and joy.
